Pre-Conference Workshop:

So You Want to Work in Politics

Capacity: 100 participants

Hey, politics. Don't miss this chance to see where the action takes place. The U.S. Capitol Historical Society will kick off the day with a women-focused tour of the Capitol. Then learn how to pursue a career in advocacy, politics, and policy making from a panel of women who work on the Hill. These women, who work for both senators and representatives, will share how they got their start — many of them through college leadership. Make sure you wear comfortable shoes for lots of walking.
