Sponsor: Carly Roberts, AS VP Activities
Proposed by: Mario Orallo-Molinaro, AS Communications Director
Proposed Motion: To Approve the Institutionalization of the AS Communications Office
Date: March 2013

Request: That the AS Communications Office be institutionalized within the Associated Students and increasing the three quarters Public Relations Coordinator to a four quarter position.

Introduction:

The AS Communications Office is the Associated Students marketing, public relations, promotional and overall Communications office within the Associated Students of Western Washington University (ASWWU). It is currently staffed with all student employees and in the past some interns. The Comm. Office is managed by the AS President Designee, currently the AS Vice President for Activities. The office currently is in its final year as a two-year pilot program.

Mission Statement & Outcomes

The Communications Office is responsible for organizational promotion, marketing and public relations. This office provides organization-wide support services including a central events calendar, market research, and development of strategic promotional goals. Additionally, the AS Communications Office advises the AS President and AS Vice-Presidents with all University, State and Federal subject matter (including relations with reporters, organizations and official AS positions)

Outcomes:

(As stated in the AS Communications proposal. 2010-2011)

- To Implement organizational and cross-divisional promotion strategies
- To Accurately and strategically promote the activities and interests of the Associated Students Organization to the public
- To provide organization-wide Promotion and Public relations support services
Associated Students Need for Program:

(As stated in the AS Communications proposal. 2010-2011)

The Communications Office is not a new concept in our organization. There has been a history of attempts to create either structures or student staff positions tasked with addressing the public relations, promotion, and communications needs of the organization. During the 08-09 academic year the Publicity Center employed a "Marketing Coordinator" charged with developing and implementing a marketing plan throughout the organization, coordinating promotions committee, and conducting campus market research. There were several issues with this position including a lack of direction from the board of directors, structural placement that provided for little organizational perspective, and an unclear delineation between a service based or strategy based role.

In only its second year of the pilot program, the AS Communications Office has created a solid foundation for the years to come. The office has established a yearly marketing plan that has been essential document for the AS Communications Director in terms of laying down goals for the year to come, but notably important also getting a real sense of our student community needs. Rather than having a single position tackle 150+ events a year, the Office has created a home for constant communications with its employees. Communication is in the form of emails, memos, person-to-person contact, committee relations and having a student staff of 4 rather than one. With the board vision and voice of the AS Vice President for Activities or President Designee, the AS Communications Office has a reliable, continuous and growing relationship, which in years past was one of the biggest obstacles.

Future projects for the AS Communications Office:

- South Campus visibility campaign.
  - This is still a major opportunity for the AS Communications Office. Working with Reslife (notably Fairhaven & Buchanan Towers Resident Directors, Fairhaven College and campus recreation) to really create a strong relationship with our south campus community.

- Collaboration with the Personal Director regarding Staff Development
  - Working with the Board to establish the Communication side of Staff Development. What needs to be communicated early? The importance of the AS image. Flow the AS Communications Office can assist in each department.

- AS Communications Committee
  - Next quarter will be our first meeting. This Committee will be essential in creating a strong bond internally with our AS Marketing Employees.

- The "Go to Office."
  - For the past few months, we have experimented with being the "Go to office" for reporters, marketers or for general student questions. This addition has created a stronger relationship with the Western Front and also given our employees a safe option when handling at times impatient correspondents.
Public Relations Coordinator to Four quarters

One of the busiest times for the AS Communications Office is summer. The Office and AS Communications Director plans AS Summerstart and advises the AS Info Fair. About 2,390 students attended Summerstart. The AS Summerstart has four sections:

1) AS Panel: The Associated Students hosts a panel presentation to all summerstart students. The panel consists of AS Summer student staff (notably the Directors and AS Board). Additionally the panel gives a taste of what the AS is and the plethora of opportunities the AS offers to students throughout the year and ways to get involved.

2) AS Social: Toward the end of the day the AS will host an AS social with all the AS Departments and their staff. Snacks and beverages are provided by New Student services, last summer the event was called Associated Students HIPPITY HIP Social. "WHOA! You have had a long day at Western. The AS team warmly invites you to come enjoy games, food and relax to some soulful music at the Viking Union. This is your change to take a breather, meet new and current students and let the AS show you a good time."

3) After Social Event: We have hosted the WWU Dead Parrot Society twice and have received overwhelming positive feedback.

4) AS Morning Tabling: on the Last day of Summerstart (it's a two day occasion), the students or parents that missed out on the social have an opportunity to meet the AS Staff again.

This takes up a number of hours on AS Communications Director, which takes away from the planning portion of the academic year. By adding the Public Relations Coordinator to summer, the load of summerstart can be shared. Additionally, this can open up time for the Comm. Director and the Public Relations coordinator to set goals for the year and go over the marketing/branding guide.

Benefits

One of the main struggles with the first year of the pilot program was finding an identity within the office. There was an excess amount of projects put on the AS Communications Director, which resulted in backtracking and finding the real need this office provides for the Organization. In its second year and final year of the pilot program, the office has found a solid foundation: Some notable benefits include:

- AS Marketing Plan
- Efficient and more organized AS Summerstart, AS Info Fair
- A Centralized Calendar of events
- Stronger Relationships and better AS Representation with: AS Review, Western Front, University Relations and the Community publications.
- Stronger Unification within the Organization: AS Brochure, AS Branding Guide (Spring 2013), AS I'm Here Video, Flashmobs.
- Social Media has increased: FB page has over 2,190+ likes.
- Publicity Request Form is being updated to be more efficient and concise.

Relationships with Current Offices & Staff

Publicity Center

The AS Communications Director communicated and works weekly with the Publicity Center staff through basecamp. The AS Communications Director works with the Publicity Center Coordinator in maintaining branding, marketing and AS logo policies internally. The collaboration with the Publicity Center and the Communications Office has been an essential relationship in enhancing the AS image in our day-to-day marketing. (Posters, handbills, Banners, AS Swag)

Western Front

The AS Public Relations Coordinator meets quarterly with the new Editor-In-Chief and Western Front Staff and sets expectations/goals of the AS and how the Communications Office is a major resource for each reporter.

University Marketing Committee

The AS Communications Director and Publicity Coordinator are liaisons on behalf of the AS. This Committee promotes and collaborates with each other on major projects and marketing strategies as a whole. This has been a huge benefit in terms of having an AS Voice in the University Marketing Community.

AS Board of Directors Represented by: AS President & AS Vice President for Activates

Again one of the biggest obstacles the previous marketing coordinators and the AS faced was lack of direction from the AS Board. Having both AS President and AS Vice President guide the office and articulate the board concerns within communication has been helpful and important.

AS Website Committee

The AS Website Committee is charged with governing the AS website; Chris Miller, VU IT Manager and VU Student developers sit on this committee. This year we have met quarterly.

The Role of the Communications and Marketing Office as the “Spokesperson” for the AS Organization

In light of recent press inquiries, it has become apparent that we do not have clarity around how press inquiries are dealt with in the Associated Students. I have concerns about this confusion. The AS President is the spokesperson for the organization and is ultimately responsible for everything that comes out of the AS (programming, press, etc.). This is a responsibility that I take very seriously because our reputation and public image impacts not only our organization, but the university, as well. I would like to be clear that my concerns do not stem from any lack of confidence in the competence of our exceptional CMKT Office staff, but from the fact that I am the one ultimately responsible (by virtue of position and job description) for what the AS does and says. For this reason, I strongly believe that the President needs to have final say in all messaging that comes out of the AS.

Of course, this is not to say that the role of speaking for the organization cannot be delegated when appropriate. Certainly, there are many instances when that is entirely reasonable and I have outlined them in the following proposal.

Therefore, I propose that:

1. We make a change to the CMKT Director’s position description to avoid confusion about who serves as the main spokesperson for the organization.

About the Position:
The AS Communications & Marketing Director is responsible for creating and implementing an AS Marketing Plan, planning and implementing public relations campaigns, identifying and executing organizational and cross-divisional promotion, advising and guiding office promotion efforts, and acting as the first point of contact for students, community members and members of the press seeking information about the AS organization’s spokesperson and media contact.

The expectation is that all press inquiries submitted to the CMKT Office will be dealt with or distributed out appropriately. The next part of the proposal speaks directly to this.
2. We use the following chart to determine how the CMKT Office deals with press inquiries.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Type of Inquiry</th>
<th>Level of Decision-Making (and who needs to know)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Logistical questions about an event (e.g. time, location, etc.)</td>
<td>CMKT Office (in consultation with event planners)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Non-controversial event-related press inquiry</td>
<td>The appropriate AS office (with advisement from the CMKT Office when requested)</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>AS President (who will delegate inquiries appropriately)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

*The inclusion of these position in the information loop about the press inquiry is not to create a micro-management situation, but rather to keep relevant parties in the know about possible press coverage. Also, in the case of controversial issues, it is expected that the AS President will be responsible for notifying advisors and university staff as appropriate.

 This same chart applies to corrections about a story after it has run, letters to the editors or other forms of responses (including online comments or social media), and guest columns.
